Building On Two Local Projects Begins June 10

The Atlantic Office of the Public Housing Administration has approved the low bid received by the Murray Municipal Housing Commission last Tuesday.

The bid of Hardaway Construction Company of Nashville, Tennessee was accepted by the commission and the PHA. The company bid $599,400.

L. D. Miller, Jr., Executive Director of the Commission said that construction on the housing project would begin about June 10.

The company has 330 calendar days in which to complete the project. Normally such projects are completed well ahead of time which would put the completion date about January 1963.

The projects to be constructed are Nash Drive Housing Project between South Broad and South Ninth and Cherry Lane Apartments extending along Cherry north of Spruce street.

The housing projects, a total of 62 units will be of modern construction with ceramic tile baths and sills. Construction will be so that maintenance will be held to a minimum.

The homes will be complete in every detail including electric ranges, gas heat, gas water heater, connections for washing machine, clothes lines, garbage cans, even to the aluminum TV aerial bracket attached to the side of the house.

Three different colors of brick are planned, three different roof colors, two types of roof, gable and hip, and different floor plans so that the homes will appear to be just a street of modern homes, rather than a housing project.

All shrubs and trees will be set and ornamental iron will be installed.

Construction areas have already been cleared and any home or building moved off.

The two projects will have paved streets, curbs and gutters.

An administrative building will be built in the Nash Drive project, and a rental and utility building will be constructed in the Cherry Lane Apartments area also.

Stubblefield Race Has The Interest Here

Preparations are complete for the primary election tomorrow with all voting machines in place. Calloway County residents will nominate a U. S. Senate candidate and a U. S. Congress candidate.

Interest in Calloway County will be largely centered on the race for United States Congress. Frank A. Stubblefield won over Noble Gregory in the May 28, 1956 primary and two years ago he won unopposed.

In 1953 Stubblefield received 46,000 votes in the first district while Gregory received 15,870. Calloway County turned out for Stubblefield casting 4,096 votes for him while Gregory received 648 votes.

The total vote in Calloway County in 1956 was 4970. Immediately following the primary in 1958 Governor A. B. Chandler ordered an investigation into the Logan County vote.

This first district county cast 443 votes for Gregory while Stubblefield received 2279.

The Logan votes were impounded then a recount was called for in Logan, Marshall and Calloway Counties.

In chronological order, on June 5 the FBI completed the Logan investigation and reported no irregularities. Suits and counter suits were filed in Calloway County.

On July 7 Special Judge Alex P. Humphreys upheld a dismissal suit by Stubblefield.

On July 9 Gregory appealed the ruling to the Appellate Court.

On September 19 the State Court of Appeals upheld the ruling of Judge Humphreys.

Following the recount, Stubblefield carried the first district by 341 votes and was certified as the winner.

Wind, Rain, And Hail Pelt County Area

Murray and Calloway County were hit by a wind, rain and hail storm Saturday bringing some relief from the drought which has delayed much of the tobacco setting the past several days.

A fire alarm was turned in at the heights of the storm at the new cafeteria on the Murray State Campus, however this turned out to be an error. Someone saw reflections from a welding torch and thought that electric wiring was shorting out.

Hail stones the size of marbles pelted the city and county and almost made the ground white before it came to a halt. Rain was mixed with the hail and finally turned into a downpour of rain which brought relief to parched fields, gardens and yards.

The storm started out with gusty winds which wrenched limbs from trees, however little damage was reported.

Light Vote Is Expected With "Short" Ballot Being Offered

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — A candidate for various offices. Vance has supplied the only real action of the campaign, touring the state in his sound truck.

Kentucky voters were to choose candidates for the U. S. Senate seat now held by former Republican National Committee Chairman Thurston B. Morton, and for seven seats in the U. S. House of Representatives.

It will mark the first time Kentuckians have voted under the new congressional districting plan which resulted from the loss of a seat in Congress after the 1960 census.

The short ballot, lack of any hotly contested contests, growing use of voting machines and the Memorial Day holiday coming up Wednesday, all were expected to combine to produce a fast vote count Tuesday night.

Morton was considered certain to be renominated in the Republican primary, his opposition being little-known Thurman J. Hamilton of London, who has often run for office but with small success.

He is almost certain to be opposed in November by Lt. Gov. Wilson W. Wyatt, running with the backing of the state administration.

Early this year Wyatt drew unexpected opposition from Harry King Lowman of Ashland, speaker of the State House of Representatives, who had the backing of former governors Earle C. Clements and A. B. Chandler.

Lowman's candidacy collapsed in April, however, when he entered an Ashland hospital with what later was diagnosed as an ulcer, and withdrew from the contest.

That left Wyatt facing Marion Vance, a Glasgow attorney, and James Logan Delk, a perennial

New Bids Will Be Taken On The Murray Hospital

The Hospital Planning Committee of the new Murray Hospital has arrived at an apparent solution to the problem of supplying more funds for the construction of the hospital.

At a recent bid opening, all bids exceeded the amount of funds available. The committee has $150,000 which raised through taxation and through matching funds supplied under the Hill-Burton Act. The lowest bid was well over this amount.

Bernard C. Harvey, Administrator said that "It is felt by the Hospital Planning Committee that these bids were fair, but that they had asked for more facilities than the money could allow."

The committee, together with engineers and architects agreed on several deletions from the project which will call for "new bids on the hospital. The group also recommended that the committee should be authorized to accept bids which will be matched by $50,000 under Hill-Burton. This will provide an additional $100,000.

The idea, Harvey said, is to obtain this extra $100,000 and then by deleting certain features of the hospital to cut the costs, the new bids might more nearly be in line with available funds.

The Director of the Kentucky Health Department indicated that these matching funds would be available.

The original design of the hospital will not be greatly changed and the efficiency, patient comfort of air-conditioning and other essential services will not be revised, Harvey said.

"In this revised program there is a possibility that a few less beds will be provided than the originally anticipated 80, but that it was felt that in the overall plan of operation and design, this would not greatly affect the efficiency and structural design of the hospital," Harvey said.

This plan will have to be approved by the Murray City Council and the Calloway Fiscal Court. With their approval of the city and county bids will be advertised on June 4 and opened June 21. If one of these new bids is accepted then construction could get underway in July.

The Hospital Planning Committee is composed of Dr. Ralph Woods, chairman, Hospital Administrator, Bernard C. Harvey, Mayor-Pro-Tem Leonard Vaughn, County Judge Robert O. Miller, County Judge Robert O. Miller, and County Judge Robert O. Miller.

VOTE IMPORTANT

CONGRESSMAN Frank A. Stubblefield is asking the voters of the first district to return him to the United States Congress for another two years.

Stubblefield has represented the first district for four years, winning over Noble Gregory in 1958 and then winning, unopposed, two years ago.

We hope that the voters will see fit to return Frank Albert to Congress because he has represented the people of this district well during his stay in Washington.

Congressman Stubblefield has been available to almost anyone who looked for him during the past four years and has given unstintingly of his time and effort to help the people of the first district in their efforts towards progress of one kind or another.

—We like this characteristic in him because for a Congressman to give help, you first must be able to contact him.

Stubblefield has opposition in the race this year, and another factor entering the race is that three new counties are in the first district. Allen, Butler and Simpson Counties are included in the first district in this election.

We hope that lack of interest will not keep people away from the polls. Frank Albert needs every vote he can obtain and voters who stay away from the polls will be casting a vote against him, whether they do so consciously or not.

We urge everyone to go to the polls tomorrow and cast their vote. It is our hope that Frank Albert Stubblefield will be favored with as many votes as possible in the first district, and especially in Calloway County. A heavy vote for Stubblefield in Calloway County may well furnish the strength needed to put him over the top.

Temper So Hot Sunday "Peacemaker" Fights; Giants Still Toss Mets Couple Of Losses

By FRED DOWN

The San Francisco Giants and New York Mets are embroiled in baseball's newest vendetta—with the controversial "brush back" pitch the cause of all the excitement.

Temper flared so hotly during Sunday's doubleheader in San Francisco that even Willie Mays—long noted as a "peacemaker"—became involved in the first fight of his career. Willie, who had been low-bridged twice by Roger Craig, wound up throwing Elio Chacon with a body-slam.

And in the confusion the National League leading San Francisco tossed the last-place Mets for another couple of losses, 7-1 in a breeze for Jack Sanford and Stu Miller and 6-5 with a four-run eighth-inning rally.

The Giants thus retained their 11-game lead in the NL, while the Cleveland Indians regained first place in the American League with a 5-3 win over the Washington Senators.

Dodgers Win Two

The Los Angeles Dodgers swept a doubleheader from the Philadelphia Phillies, 5-2 and 2-1; the Cincinnati Reds downed the Chicago Cubs, 10-0; the Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the Houston Astros, 7-2; and the Milwaukee Braves shaded the St. Louis Cardinals, 4-3, in other NL games.

The Minnesota Twins whipped the Chicago White Sox, 5-4 and 8-6; the Detroit Tigers scored a 5-1 victory after bowing to the New York Yankees, 4-1; the Los Angeles Angels dropped their opener, 3-2, but then beat the Kansas City A's, 6-3; and the Baltimore Orioles topped the Boston Red Sox, 4-2, in the other AL action.

Felipe Alou had three hits and Orlando Cepeda and Mays two each to lead the Giants' 10-hit attack in the first game. In the nightcap the Giants scored four runs in the eighth during which Alou hit a game-tying two-run single and catcher Harry Chitt's passed ball let in the "go-ahead" run.

Battle Starts

Mays and Chacon became involved in their fist-swinging in the seventh inning of the opener. Roger Craig, who had dusted off Willie twice in the game, had just picked Cepeda on the shoulder and made two futile pick-off attempts on Mays. After the second, Chacon suddenly started to pummel Willie and the Giant star tossed him to the ground with a body slam.

Homers by Tito Francona and Willie Kirkland were the big blows for the Indians who knocked out Bernie Daniels in the first inning with RBI-hits by Don Dilat and Chuck Essegian. Jim Perry yielded three runs and eight hits in seven innings to win his third game.

Frank Howard's four hits led the Dodgers' 11-hit opening-game attack and Los Angeles completed the sweep when Tim Larkness' bases-filled ninth-inning single snapped a 1-1 tie. Stan Williams raised his record to 4-1 in the opener and Don Drysdale won his seventh game in the nightcap.

Five Houston errors enabled the Pirates to score five unearned runs and made things easy for Vern Law to win his second game. Smokey Burgess had three hits and Dick Groat and Bob Skinner two each for the Pirates while Hal Smith had two hits for the Colts.

Bob Shaw pitched a six-hitter to win his fifth game for the Braves, who scored all their runs in the fifth inning against Bob Gibson. Ed Mathews and Hank Aaron each singled in a run and Mack Jones climaxed the rally with a two-run double.

The Twins moved to within a half game of the AL lead. Rookie George Banks' two-run homer was the decisive blow of the first game and Harmon Killebrew's three-run homer was the key hit of the nightcap. Jim Kaat won his third game and Ted Sadowski his first.

Draw Largest Crowd
A crowd of 46,776, largest of the AL season, saw Bill Skowron's three-run ninth-inning homer win the first game for the Yankees.

Paul Foytack struck out seven and stranded 11 Yankees in the second game. Chico Fernandez drove in three runs with two hits for Detroit in the second game.

Dave Wickersham pitched a six-hitter to win his fifth game for Kansas City, but the Angels took the nightcap with the aid of homers by pitcher Eli Grba and Bill Moran. Manny Jimenez went 4-4 for-6 in the doubleheader to raise his major league leading average to .392.

Russ Snyder and Jim Gentile homered in the 11th inning to provide relief pitcher Wes Stock with his second victory for the Orioles. Robin Roberts, signed recently by Baltimore, yielded eight hits and two runs in 7½ innings before being relieved. Gentile, Brooks Robinson and Jerry Adair had three hits each for the Orioles.

CHAPTER 36

SWIFTLY, like a pale seal, Emilio Largo dove down to the firm sand and stood facing James Bond. Slowly, he advanced between the walls of coral, the big hands held forward to the first noid.

His teeth drew away from the rubber mouthpiece and the clefts of a smile appeared in his cheeks. Largo was being melodramatic.

He took a pace forward and then another. Bond crouched, backing carefully so as not to cut his rubber ski on the rough coral, into the narrow passage. Largo came on, slowly, deliberately. In two more paces he would attack.

Bond caught a glint of movement out in the open behind Largo. Someone to the rescue? But the glint was white, not black. It was one of them!

Largo leaped forward. Bond kicked off the coral and dived down, but Largo was ready. His knee came up hard against Bond's head and then from above, both his hands came down and got Bond by the neck, lifted him up like a child, and held him at arm's length, pressing.

The blood was roaring in Bond's head and he knew he was gone. Slowly he sank to his knees. But now, why was he sinking? What had happened to the hands at his throat? His eyes, squeezed tight in agony, opened and there was light. In front of him Largo, Largo with a spear sticking horribly through his neck, lay kicking feebly on the sand. Behind him and looking down at the body stood a small, pale figure fitting another spear into an underwater gun. The long hair flowed round her head like a veil in the luminous sea.

Bond got slowly to his feet. He took a step forward. Suddenly he felt his knees beginning to give. He leaned against the coral, his mouth slackening round the oxygen tube. Water seeped into his mouth. No! he said to himself. No! Don't let that happen!

A hand took one of his. But Domino's eyes behind her mask were somewhere else. They were looking at the white-coated figure. The girl. How is she? What's she doing? What's she doing? What's she doing?

The doctor said carefully, "Miss Wall will be all right. For the moment she is suffering from shock. She needs rest. What else? What was the matter with her?"

"She had swum a long way. She was not in a condition to undertake such a physical strain."

"Why not?"

The doctor moved toward the door. "And now you too must

Swimmer Has Long Record Behind Her

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor
NEW YORK (UPI) — At the age of two, Britt Sullivan was paddling around in the family swimming pool in her native Omaha. At 28, she set a long distance swimming record by covering the 134 miles of Ohio River from Cincinnati to Louisville in 59 hours

Primary . . .

by senatorial duties. Loss of the congressional seat resulted in effect in combining the old congressional districts of Britt M. Spruce and Frank L. Chelf into a new 4th District sprawling from the Ohio River almost to the Tennessee border.

Spence Not Running
Spence, at 87 the oldest member of Congress, declined to run against in what amounted to a new district for him, leaving the field to Chelf and 11 northern Kentuckians who jumped into the race when Spence announced his retirement. All but seven of these have since officially withdrawn, and those four also announced their withdrawal but too late to get their names off the ballot. Chelf seems a sure-fire winner.

In the 1st District, Rep. Frank A. Stubblefield of Murray is opposed for renomination by Noble J. Gregory, Mayfield banker whom he unseated in a tight race four years ago. Stubblefield is heavily favored and there is no Republican candidate. Polls will be open from 6 a. m. to 5 p. m. local time, and in accordance with state law, sale of alcoholic beverages will be forbidden between those hours.

and 46 minutes. Now, at 27, she is preparing for an even more difficult swim 128 miles of the Atlantic Ocean from Montauk Point, Long Island, N.Y., to Coney Island. Or, she said, if she can't get clearance from the New York Harbor authorities, she will try to add another 15 miles and come into the Battery at the tip of Manhattan Island.

The swim will begin July 4, she said, in an interview. And, if the weather is favorable, she will complete the distance in six days, or a total of 144 hours without ever leaving water. If the weather is less than favorable, the swim might run eight or even nine days, she said.

The odds on her completing such a strenuous swim?

Mental Attitude Important
They're all in her favor, she believes, because she has the right mental attitude. This, said the brunette swimmer, is even more important than physical endurance.

Miss Sullivan considers her swimming more than just a matter of setting records. It's a continuing experiment in man's ability to survive long periods in the water, and proof—to her and her doctor—that a once weak heart is good as new.

"Last year on the Ohio," she recalled, "I got a gash on my head from a log . . . and it would have been easy to give up because I was swimming with blood streaming from the cut. I was in extreme pain."

"But to me, you don't give up the 70 miles you've already done. Nor, if it were an emergency, would you give up your life. I want to prove that we can learn survival for long periods in water."

Miss Sullivan, daughter of a career Army officer now stationed in Seattle, Wash., grew up in Omaha where she said she learned to swim in a backyard pool.

She joined the WAVES after graduation from high school and was based at the Naval Air Station in Jacksonville, Fla.

Had Heart Weakness
It was there that she learned of a heart weakness—when she gave out during an 880-yard swimming competition. Navy doctors ordered immediate rest and then limited duty for the remainder of her military career.

"They told me I'd probably have to take it easy the rest of my life," she said.

But Miss Sullivan went right on with her swimming avocation through three years at Washburn University, Topeka, Kan., and jobs as continually writer at radio stations KTOP, Topeka, then WKY, Louisville.

Currently she is teaching swimming in Manhattan for a chain of physical fitness centers. But in a few weeks she will move to the environs of Montauk, the easternmost tip of Long Island, to begin her ocean training.

This summer's swim will take much longer than last summer's, she explained, because there are the Atlantic's currents and waves, plus the drag of salt water on the body. She is charting a course about one-half mile off shore.

Tests Skin Protectors

Picking up the tab for the cost of the swim including a crew of at least four persons manning an escort launch will be several commercial organizations interested in testing skin protectors for long hours in salt water and in survival feeding.

The long distance swimmer wears a regular tank style suit of nylon jersey, covers distance with either a crawl or an overarm side stroke she has developed to get her through waves, and figures her normal weight of 130 will have to be stepped up to 150 for the grueling distance.

She lost 15 pounds on the Ohio River swim.

Miss Sullivan hopes that her experiments with distance swimming may produce new knowledge on man's stamina. "We have a lot still to learn," she said. "This is the most exciting time of all to be alive . . . in an age when our people will be in space."

SINATRA GETS KEYS

TOKYO (UPI) — American singer Frank Sinatra was given the keys to the city of Tokyo Monday for donating about $25,000 to the city's children's homes and orphanages. Sinatra turned over to Gov. Ryotaro Azuma the proceeds of three of his sell-out performances in Japan.
